

Journal Contributor's Publishing Agreement

Conditions for Publication

Modern Austrian Literature and Culture Association

In order to publish your Contribution we need your agreement in writing. Please read the terms of this Agreement carefully and sign and return the form to us as quickly as possible.

1. It is our practice, together with most other serials and journals publishers, to ask you to assign to MALCA the copyright of Contributions accepted for publication in our journal. The reasons for this are as follows:
 - (i) ownership of copyright by the publisher tends to ensure maximum international protection against infringement, libel, or plagiarism
 - (ii) it enables MALCA to deal efficiently with requests from third parties to reproduce or reprint a Contribution, or part of it, and in accordance with a general policy which is sensitive both to any relevant changes in international copyright law and to the general desirability of encouraging the dissemination of knowledge.
2. In assigning your copyright you are not forfeiting your proprietary rights. Nothing in this Agreement shall restrict your rights as the Author(s) to revise, adapt, prepare derivative works, present orally, or otherwise make use of the contents of the Contribution, provided that these do not conflict with MALCA's financial interests. You may do this after obtaining our permission. MALCA is a not-for-profit organization which has the encouragement and dissemination of scholarship as its object, and permission to use the contents of your work elsewhere will not normally be withheld provided that the MALCA journal, Modern Austrian Literature, is acknowledged as the original source with a full bibliographical reference.
3. You will be informed, as far as is practicable, of all requests to reproduce your Contribution, or a substantial part of it, or figures, tables, or illustrations from it in another publication where your Contribution is specifically requested, rather than as part of the journal as a whole. Granting of permission will be subject to your approval being sought. It is our policy to share equally with the Author(s) any fees received from commercial publishers for permission to reproduce work in print when the total fee is greater than US$100.
4. When the Contribution is accepted, we undertake to publish it as soon as we reasonably can, and we will endeavor to maximize the visibility of the journal and of your Contribution within it. If the Contribution is not published in Modern Austrian Literature, the rights revert to the present copyright holder.
5. In addition to publication of your Contribution in conventional printed form, your assignment of copyright also signifies your agreement to its publication and/or storage electronically. MALCA may also arrange to include your Contribution in electronic document-delivery services and databases without further consultation.
6. By signing this form you certify that
 - (i) your Contribution is your original work, has not been published before, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere;
 - (ii) you have obtained permission for and acknowledged the source of excerpts from other copyright works; the relevant permission correspondence should be attached to this form. If you are in doubt about whether or not permission is required, please contact MALCA; failure to obtain such permission would be an infringement of copyright and could in some circumstances lead to litigation;
 - (iii) to the best of your knowledge the Contribution contains no statements that are libellous, unlawful, or in any way actionable;
 - (iv) you indemnify MALCA in respect of claims made against it by third parties for copyright infringement relating to publication of the Contribution, or concerning the Authorship of the Contribution or rights to publish the Contribution.

MALCA will keep your personal contact details on file for general administrative purposes only.

Copyright Assignment

Please ensure that you have read and understood the accompanying notes before signing.

For jointly Authored Contributions, all Authors must sign a copy of this form.

If the Contribution is accepted for publication in Modern Austrian Literature, then I

(i) assign the present and future copyright in this Contribution and in any abstract prepared by me to accompany the Contribution, throughout the world in any form (including print, electronic, and digital form) and in any language, exclusively to MALCA;

(ii) agree that MALCA may seek payment of fees from corporate bodies or individuals for the privilege of making copies of the Contribution from the conventional printed form or from Contributions stored electronically, e.g. by document-delivery services;

(iii) agree to indemnify MALCA in respect of claims made against it by third parties for copyright infringement related to publication of the Contribution, or concerning the Authorship of the Contribution or rights to publish the Contribution;

(iv) warrant that the Contribution does not, to the best of my knowledge, contain anything which is libelous, defamatory, or obscene, and that it has not been published elsewhere, and that it does not infringe any rights of others;

(v) agree that MALCA reserves the right to make such editorial changes as it deems necessary, but that no substantial alteration will be made without consultation with the Author(s);

(vi) agree that the attached Conditions for Publication form part of this Agreement.

I assert the moral right to be identified as the Author of the Contribution.
